IV. Natalie Hart – Presentation on Athletic Diversity Initiatives and NCAA Review Process

Natalie Hart presented on diversity efforts in the athletic department as part of the NCAA Certification Process. Natalie reported that the NCAA is concerned with diversity beyond ethnic minorities, though the use of the term “minority” does follow NCAA guidelines. Natalie reported that the Athletic Department’s diversity plans are overseen by a committee that includes a broad spectrum of individuals. Responding to a question on LGBT issues in athletics, Natalie reported that there is a heavy focus on student life and student development, though there is not a specific push on this particular issue. The report is based on eight areas defined by the NCAA. One recommendation to Natalie was to include more cultural activities in programming for athletes.
V. AdvanceVT Presentation – Peggy Layne and Elizabeth Creamer

Peggy Layne and Elizabeth Creamer provided an update on the work of AdvanceVT. AdvanceVT, which began in 2003 with a grant from the NSF, has been an effort to increase the number and success of women faculty in the sciences and engineering.

In their presentation, Peggy and Elizabeth provided an overview of the results of AdvanceVT’s second Faculty Work-Life Survey, a follow up to an initial survey completed in the spring of 2005. The purpose of both surveys was to access faculty perceptions of their overall job satisfaction and of various attributes of the work environment at Virginia Tech. The primary focus of the survey was on full-time instructional faculty. In particular the survey sought to determine if differences existed between various groups as defined by gender, tenure status, race/ethnicity, college, and department.

In comparison with the 2005 survey, the 2008 survey respondents were similar in college, gender and ethnic breakdown with a slightly higher proportion of pre-tenure faculty in 2008.

A key conclusion from this survey was that perceptions of diversity were slightly, but significantly more positive in 2008 that in 2005. However, Women, Blacks, and Hispanics generally have less positive views than men and Caucasian faculty.
