Commission on Equal Opportunity and Diversity
Resolution 2009-10B
Revisions to Policy 1025

Guy Sims presented the resolution for first reading. Dr. Sims introduced Maggie Sloane to explain the resolution. Sloane indicated that this resolution will reflect the current practice of conducting an investigation after a complaint of harassment or discrimination is received by departments instead of waiting for a formal complaint. The resolution is also revising the appeals process by simplifying it so that it now refers to the appeals process in the faculty and staff handbooks. It was mentioned that the staff handbook needs to be included in section 6.

Commission on Administrative and Professional Faculty Affairs
Resolution 2009-10B
Resolution for Change in Membership of the Commission on Administrative And Professional Faculty Affairs

Pat Hyer presented the resolution for first reading. Dr. Hyer gave background information on the membership of the commission. When the Commission on Administrative and Professional Faculty Affairs (CAPFA) was created, the Administrative and Professional (AP) Faculty were divided up into four large areas in order to better group the elections process. The four areas include academic support, general administration, student affairs, and cooperative extension. There are nine CAPFA seats that are filled by elections from these four areas. The nine seats were apportioned by the number of people in the four areas at the time the commission was formed. The resolution stresses that there have been demographic shifts in terms of the numbers of employees in the four areas. There were more than 400 extension agents when the commission was formed and that number has decreased to 271. There are now more general administration AP Faculty since the conversion of staff in pay bands 5 through 7 to AP Faculty. This resolution will reapportion the nine seats in relative proportion to the four groups by moving two seats from extension to general administration. This change will take place on a transition schedule. One seat will be vacated next year by the retirement of an extension agent who is currently serving, and another seat will become vacant the following year.

Commission on Graduate Studies and Policies
Resolution 2009-10B
Resolution for the Establishment of a Masters of Arts Degree in Material Culture and Public Humanities

Joe Eska presented the resolution for second reading and made a motion to approve. The motion was seconded, and the motion passed.

Commission on Graduate Studies and Policies
Resolution 2009-10C
& Commission on Undergraduate Studies and Policies
Resolution 2009-10A
Resolution Regarding the Name Change of the College of Natural Resources to the College of Natural Resources and Environment

Joe Eska presented the resolution for second reading and made a motion to approve. The motion was seconded. Dr. Eska introduced Dean Paul Winistorfer to answer any questions about the resolution. A friendly amendment was proposed to remove the word “former” and change the word “had” to “has” in the fifth whereas statement, as well as add “within the USDA” after National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) in the sixth whereas statement. Dr. Winistorfer accepted the friendly amendment.

Dean Winistorfer indicated that changing the name of the College of Natural Resources to the College of Natural Resources and Environment will help expand the college’s vision and relevance. Dean Winistorfer informed the Council that the academic programs on the university’s website are listed alphabetically and are not grouped by college.

Dr. Easterling stated that there are many programs and departments outside of the College of Natural Resources that are keenly engaged in issues pertaining to environment, and when environment is added to the name of a single college, it will send a message to those outside of the university. Dr. Easterling then indicated that there should have been a broader discussion before bringing it to University Council. Dean Benson supported Dr. Easterling’s position. Dean Ott Rowlands suggested that the implication in the name is that all things about the environment will be brought together under one college. Dr. McNamee indicated that the College of Natural Resources followed all of the procedures recommended to them. This requested change is similar to the Life Sciences in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. It is not meant to be all inclusive, and the entire campus will benefit from the change because it is an important part of the college’s mission. Dr. Long informed the Council that the Faculty Senate was polled and the Faculty Senate will support the resolution. Dean Winistorfer stressed that the College of Natural Resources is not trying to obtain additional resources. He has no aspiration to change the college’s name and then put up a fence around the college. He wants to work collegially with other colleges. The College of Natural Resources looked at other colleges around the country and determined that the new name proposed was the best identifier of the college’s mission.

Dean Sorensen moved to postpone the resolution until the April 19, 2010, meeting, at which time it will be brought up for final vote. The motion was seconded, and the motion to postpone the resolution passed.
