WHEREAS, the Faculty Handbook describes the policies related to faculty and the organizations within Virginia Tech to which they belong; and

WHEREAS, faculty with common disciplinary or professional interests may wish to organize for the purposes of networking and professional development; and

WHEREAS, formal recognition of such organizations by Virginia Tech is beneficial to the faculty and in alignment with mutual interests of advancing professional interests and fostering collegiality and collaboration among faculty;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Chapter 1 of the Faculty Handbook be amended with the changes noted below in red.

1.1.12 Faculty Organizations

Faculty organizations may be established by faculty for the purposes of building communities of practice and networking for professional development. These organizations may be comprised of faculty around certain disciplinary interests, experiences, or towards specific goals. These faculty organizations have constitutions that designate their purposes, membership, officers, election procedures, standing committees and their duties, and other organizational and procedural matters. These faculty organizations do not have a formal role in university governance but are recognized by and supported in their activities, as appropriate, by the office of the Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs.

To: Vice President of Policy and Governance

The Staff Senate Committee on Policy and Issues has reviewed and approves CFA Resolution 2024-25K. However, we have two clarification questions.

First, if the Office of the Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs is going to recognize and support the activities of other faculty associations, should there not be some form of approval process, or at least a notification of formation, so that the office is made aware of what associations exist? (Perhaps the association has to submit their constitution and other documents that detail the purpose and operation of the association to be filed with the Faculty Affairs Office.) Otherwise, it would be possible to find ourselves in a situation where there is a faculty association that, according to this addition in the Faculty Handbook, the Office of the Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs both recognizes and supports, but the office was not aware that the faculty association existed, and in fact, would not support them due to conflict with the values and principles of the university.

Second, would these associations receive regular and on-going financial support from the Office of the Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs? If financial support was requested, is there a process in place to manage and track these requests and approval or disapproval?

We have no further comment.

Issues Committee
